OUR FAMILY IS YOUR FAMILY
YOUR FAMILY IS OUR FAMILY

It is virtually impossible to quantify all the ways in which the untiring dedication of our students, parents, alumni, faculty, and staff have shaped our beloved School. Our legacy at Jesuit Dallas has been achieved by doing more than providing students with an exceptional, high quality curriculum. We are blessed by a community—a family—that is unparalleled in its love and understanding of what is possible because of our commitment to form men of conscience and compassion.
Jesuit College Preparatory School of Dallas (Jesuit Dallas) was founded in 1942 as a private Catholic institution for young men under the direction of the Society of Jesus. Located on a 34-acre campus in North Dallas, the School provides a rigorous student-centered Jesuit education to approximately 1,150 students in grades 9-12 with a 9:1 student-faculty ratio. The faculty, of which 76% hold an advanced degree, totals over 135 professionals.

The School’s focus on formation of the whole person results in men who exemplify The Profile of the Graduate, which describes the characteristics of a man who seeks the fullest development of his God-given talents and puts his faith in action. The more than 11,000 graduates—Men for Others—serve as community leaders throughout the globe. As described by Jesuit Dallas President Mike Earsing, "Our students are not just called to be the best in the world; they are called to be the best for the world."

THE PROFILE OF A GRADUATE

The Profile of the Graduate touches every aspect of life at Jesuit Dallas. At graduation, the Jesuit student has come to embody the ideal described in the Profile.

INTELLECTUALLY COMPETENT • OPEN TO GROWTH • LOVING RELIGIOUS • COMMITTED TO WORKING FOR JUSTICE • PHYSICALLY FIT
 Jesuit Dallas emphasizes academic excellence and intellectual challenge. It also recognizes the importance of educating the whole person, and thus every aspect of the School seeks the fullest possible development of every dimension of its students. Jesuit’s education strives to inspire a joy in learning and a thirst for greater and deeper knowledge. At graduation, the Jesuit student will have experienced a curriculum designed to open him to the richness of his own intellect, as well as to the world of nature and man.

Average SAT scores exceed the national average by more than 300 points.

In the last five years, students have received college scholarship offers totaling over $150 million.

220 students recognized by the National Merit Scholarship Program in the last five years.

69 students recognized by the College Board National Recognition Program in the last five years.
Jesuit Dallas has nine different academic departments and nearly 130 courses. The School partners with the College Board to offer upwards of 24 Advanced Placement courses each year, which changes based on the pursuits of the individuals in the courses. Students who remain in-state and attend a public college or university are automatically awarded credit for passing scores.

*Dual Credit Courses

COLLEGE CREDIT
Jesuit Dallas offers several opportunities for students to earn college credit as part of progressing through the School’s college-preparatory curriculum. Jesuit maintains a prestigious dual-credit partnership with St. Louis University, and each year students enroll in advanced online courses at universities throughout the country where they earn credit at Jesuit as well as through each college’s individual program. Additionally, students have the ability to attend classes on site at local colleges and can have their Jesuit class schedules arranged to accommodate those opportunities.

While dual credit might not be a selection or desire for every Jesuit student, it is important to note that Jesuit classes, regardless of honors status or grade level, have a noticed impact on the success of our graduates in college. It is routine for our counselors to receive unsolicited compliments from college professors and recruiters about our graduates. From being prepared for the rigors of the curricula to excelling in high-level courses, colleges know they can expect well-rounded and deep thinkers from Jesuit alumni.
The academic experience at Jesuit Dallas is enriched through research projects, field trips, lab tours, participation in competitions, special projects, and extracurricular opportunities. Additionally, Jesuit is proud to have hosting and exchange relationships with Jesuit schools around the world, including Toulouse, France; Milan, Italy; Guadalajara, Mexico; and Lima, Peru.

Throughout the academic year and summer months, academic, social justice, and cultural immersion programs take our students all over the globe. These experiences provide the opportunity for our students to take learning outside of the classroom, serve the poor and marginalized, and understand more fully the diverse cultures of the world.

Our faculty and staff are committed to forming young men who are well-rounded academically, emotionally, spiritually and socially. We strive to meet the multi-faceted interests and talents of our community and invite students and families to embrace the rich traditions of our School. From the very beginning, Jesuit works to make sure new students feel comfortable and become involved. Counselors meet individually with students to guide their transition into Jesuit, while each freshman homeroom has four senior Big Brothers who help guide and mentor their Little Brothers.

Housing hundreds of works by internationally-celebrated artists, the School doubles as an art museum.

Comprehensive medical society, complete with an on-campus sim clinic, rotations at area hospitals, and an annual mission trip.

The Jesuit Dallas debate team is a perennial state and national-contending program. The team has won four state championships in the last 20 years, and in 2021 qualified a Texas — best five teams to the state tournament.
STEM
Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) has been a priority at Jesuit for many years. Whether it has been through facility upgrades, programmatic commitments, faculty training, or curricular adjustments, Jesuit continues to be at the forefront of preparing students for enacting change in the 21st century. All classes at all levels incorporate projects and problems that challenge students to find God and act for justice. Thus, while there is no formal STEM endorsement, Jesuit is proud to be nationally competitive in regards to preparing students for the 21st century fields of science, technology, engineering, and math.

THE ARTS
For over 500 years, the arts have been at the core of an Ignatian education. In addition to cultivating interests in traditional subjects such as studio art and ceramics, the curriculum has expanded to include emerging media with many students pursuing interests in filmmaking and broadcasting.

The performing arts have played a vital part in the curricula since Jesuit Dallas first opened its doors. The theater program, which stages four major productions each year, includes opportunities for growth in stage acting, directing, theater arts, and technical theater (stagecraft). The instrumental and vocal music program offers exciting and challenging musical opportunities, including marching band, concert band, string orchestra, men’s chorus, jazz ensemble, and wind and percussion ensembles. Performing groups are open to all, including students with a desire to learn a new instrument.

A regular recipient of a First Class rating by the National Scholastic Press Association, Jesuit’s award-winning student paper, The Roundup, includes over 70 students across all grade levels among its team of editors and writers.
As a community, our goal is to model love for our students through action. Love is a gift; it is an invitation from God to be one with Christ. While in formation, we seek opportunities to celebrate and encourage our students when they demonstrate love and, when necessary, redirect them when they fail to demonstrate love for themselves or for one another. To love is to encourage; it is compassionate, selfless, empathetic and respectful. St. Ignatius calls upon us to seek to find God in all things. This orients us toward a place where we can better receive God’s love and, in receiving that love, are more capable of sharing that love as God’s hands on earth.

The School offers a wellness resource program throughout the year with students, parents, and staff that explore contemporary issue through an Ignatian lens (I-Days).

With 19 different languages being spoken by our students at home, Jesuit Dallas offers a translation service program for the many families for whom English is not a first language.

Staffed by 12 full-time counselors and advisors, Jesuit provides a highly-regarded counseling program to support the emotional, mental, and academic experience of our students.
A COMMUNITY OF INCLUSION

We are called to model Christ’s love in all of our thoughts and actions, and as such Jesuit Dallas stands against bigotry, racism, and hatred of any kind. One of our goals is to foster a community that reflects the rich diversity of the Dallas metroplex so that students and families are introduced to the vibrant cultures that make us unique. A diverse population encourages dialogue, growth, and inclusivity, which are vital elements in forming young men to become true community servants as Men for Others.

The diversity, equity and inclusion programs at Jesuit are committed to helping students discover the magis (the more) in themselves and in the members of their diverse community, which include race, religion, gender, age, ability, geography and socio-economic status. This discovery better prepares students to contribute to a multicultural world, one in which local, national, and international tensions are often grounded in cultural, religious, and linguistic differences.

37% OF THE STUDENT BODY IDENTIFIES AS ETHNICALLY DIVERSE

Hispanic – 21%, Asian – 8%, Multi-racial – 3%, African-American – 4%, Native American – 2%
Our students are part of a community which seeks to nurture the seeds of religious faith and commitment to growth in each individual. In light of the Catholic tradition and the vision of St. Ignatius of Loyola, students and staff alike are supported in their individual call to proclaim the faith, promote justice, and grow in their personal relationship with God. All members of the Jesuit Dallas family, regardless of their religious background, are invited and welcomed to participate in the spiritual offerings of the School as they develop their own individual relationship with God.

Jesuit Dallas celebrates School-wide Mass each month as well as a weekly prayer service.

Daily reflection is offered to students and staff through the morning prayer and the Examen.

Every student participates in annual retreats where he is invited into reflection and dialogue rooted in the spiritual exercises of St. Ignatius.

72% of students identify as Catholic, although Jesuit Dallas embraces students of all religious backgrounds.
PRAYER
Prayer is the key way an individual develops his relationship with God. Students at Jesuit Dallas are offered many opportunities to experience prayer as a large community including weekly prayer services, morning prayer, and the Examen. Additional opportunities like Rosary Wednesdays, Adoration Fridays, and Stations of the Cross during the Lenten season are also available.

SACRAMENTS
The liturgy, the central prayer of the Catholic Church, is celebrated every day in the Jesuit Dallas chapel at times convenient for students who might want to take a few minutes out of their lunch period or come a little early in the morning to celebrate the Eucharist with their brothers. In addition, the entire School community celebrates liturgies once a month throughout the year. Finally, several opportunities for students to receive the Sacrament of Penance exist throughout the year and priests on campus are also available for conversation at other times as well.

RETREATS
Students are asked to deepen their understanding of who they are and who God is calling them to be through annual retreats. Every student participates in an annual retreat culminating in their Kairos or Silent Retreat experience senior year. During retreat, students are invited into reflection and dialogue rooted in the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius.
Community service and social justice are cornerstones in the educational ethos at Jesuit Dallas. Our programs are designed to be context-driven and student-centered with the core belief that when student formation is given highest priority, everyone benefits in the long-term. As a student serves in the community, he proceeds toward greater awareness of his place as a servant-leader while recognizing his responsibility as a Man for Others in the Jesuit tradition of service that is inspired by Christ’s life and the teachings of St. Ignatius.

Partnering with hundreds of organizations, Jesuit Dallas supports the largest high school community service department in the State of Texas and offers one of the most comprehensive programs nationwide.

The School conducts urban and poverty immersion missions locally and abroad, including mission trips to Guatemala, Mexico, Peru, Puerto Rico, and Los Angeles.
Jesuit Dallas is the first high school in the United States to sponsor an on-campus chapter of Jesuit Refugee Services (JRS), whose mission is focused on reaching out to Africans arriving in the U.S. and to those living in refugee camps in Kenya.

Through our program, we engage with local, national, and international partners to create formative experiences that compel our students to carefully consider the intersections of faith and justice, and engage in meaningful encounters with those experiencing marginalization.

Jesuit Dallas students come to value the ideal of a sound mind in a sound body. As part of their formational experience, students have been introduced to means and the importance of maintaining good physical condition throughout their lives. Through participation in intramural and interscholastic team sports, each student is challenged to see these activities, not simply as a way of developing his physical abilities, but also as a means for enhancing his growth as a well-rounded gentleman.

Jesuit Dallas was the first school in Texas to receive the Strength of America award by the President’s Council on Physical Fitness, and has been a recipient every year since 2013.

The School supports a robust athletic performance program that emphasizes all areas of strength & conditioning as well as nutrition education and mental preparation.

In addition to ample fields and court space, students have access to the Dell Performance Center, a fully-equipped 9,000-square foot weight training facility.
As one of the most celebrated high school programs in the history of Texas, Jesuit Dallas athletic teams have enjoyed significant success through every decade since the 1940s, setting a standard of excellence reflective in all aspects of campus life. The Rangers have won 125 team state championships, while Jesuit Dallas alumni have gone on to compete professionally in the NFL, MLB, NBA, PGA, MLS, Premier League (England), and Bundesliga (Germany).

The School offers 22 varsity sports and competes in the largest classification of the University Interscholastic League (UIL), the athletic and extracurricular governing body for the state’s public and charter schools. In recent years, soccer, baseball, and rugby have reached the top of the high school national rankings, while crew, cycling, and lacrosse are considered benchmark programs throughout the region.

Opening in 2021, the David A. Segal Family Aquatic Center is a 28,000-square foot state-of-the-art natatorium complete with two swimming pools. The facility benefits a vast majority of Jesuit students through academic labs, injury rehab therapy, endurance and flexibility training for all sports, learn-to-swim programs, scuba certification instruction, and lifeguard training and certification.
One of the most unique and enriching aspects of the Jesuit experience is the lifelong brotherhood of our young men. Through their formation as students, Jesuit Dallas alumni are forever connected and forever changed, and many relationships remain intact throughout the rest of their lives.

After students graduate, the Jesuit Dallas Alumni Association offers a number of annual events, services, and programs for former Jesuit students. Even non-graduates are included in these opportunities, as the Jesuit experience has such a profound impact on all those who have been shaped by the journey into becoming a Man for Others.

Jesuit Dallas maintains a near-100% college enrollment rate, with most attending their school of choice. In the past five years, Jesuit Dallas graduates have been accepted to all five U.S. service academies, all eight Ivy League institutions, and each of the top 20 “National Universities” in America as listed by U.S. News & World Report.

In the last five years, 72% of all Jesuit Dallas graduates have received a college award or scholarship.

Since 2017, 22 Jesuit Dallas graduates have received Congressional appointments to attend one of the nation’s five U.S. service academies.

In the last 5 years, 1,311 Jesuit Dallas students were accepted at 409 different colleges and universities in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Europe and Asia.
Jesuit Dallas believes that an all-boys environment allows for effective implementation of teaching strategies geared for teenage boys, lessens social pressures, and results in a meaningful brotherhood that most of our alumni carry with them throughout the rest of their lives. Our boys do have lots of opportunities to meet girls through organized social gatherings, community events and coed activities such as band, theater, and cheerleading.

CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING…

• Jesuit Dallas is not just a school comprised of boys, but a school specifically for boys. Every aspect of our formational program is designed to respond to the needs of our young men and guide them along the journey towards full and responsible manhood. Our teachers have mastered developing the full potential of our students and the techniques to optimize student motivation.

• With no girls to impress, the daily academic environment gives our boys the freedom to be themselves. Conformity gives way to individuality. Our students are able to discover their true identity in the safety of the community.

• Our students are encouraged and feel more comfortable pursuing a variety of interests. Research shows that young men who attend an all-boys school are more than twice as likely to study subjects such as art, music, and foreign language at an advanced level and to engage in a wider array of experiences. It is common for a Jesuit student to participate in the arts, athletics, and student government.

• A study by the U.S. Department of Education found that parents who switched their sons to an all-boys school observed an increased eagerness to learn and compete academically.

• The learning environment at Jesuit fosters camaraderie and lifelong friendships. Our students come from many different backgrounds, and they have unique interests, personalities, and skills, just like at many other schools. Our students embrace the differences in one another and treat each other like brothers. Jesuit truly is a family.
SPIRIT OF GIVING
Jesuit Dallas offers a truly unique educational experience that goes beyond intellectual mastery and addresses the formation of the whole student. It does so at a tuition rate that remains far below its academic peers because of our deeply generous and devoted community. The benevolence of parents, alumni, parents of graduates, faculty, and friends, not only ensures that every academically qualified student has the opportunity to attend Jesuit, but annual and major gifts are also used to enhance the classroom experience, programmatic opportunities, and extracurricular pursuits. We are very blessed by this unwavering spirit of giving, as it is an integral part of what makes Jesuit Dallas special.

FINANCIAL AID AND SCHOLARSHIPS
Jesuit Dallas has established a tradition of scholastic and personal achievement that is second-to-none among secondary schools. We understand that the cost of an excellent program is significant, and we are committed to making this experience available for all students, regardless of their ability to pay. Candidates for admission are considered solely on the merits of their academic ability and character, and the need for financial aid has no bearing on admission.

Most financial assistance is based on demonstrated financial need although merit-based scholarships are awarded each year across all grade levels. During the 2020-21 academic year, Jesuit Dallas granted more than $3 million in financial assistance to over 28% of the student body, with the average financial aid package covering 51.8% of tuition. Students taking advantage of subsidized tuition are able to assist in “paying” for their education through the School’s work grant program.
